April 2008

Hi Everybody!

This newsletter is really late!!! Sorry about that! I hope that all of you are doing well. I have recovered from the surgery...and the anemia (that's why I was so tired) and am back to normal, full speed ahead!

Missions Conference – The annual Globe International Missions Conference was this month. There were meetings before and during, so it was a busy week. I truly enjoyed sharing with many people and being involved in the activities.

Nicaragua Team Meeting – Several of us who are working with Globe Nicaragua were in Pensacola for the conference, so we had a Nicaragua team meeting. It was actually exciting! This was the first time we had had a chance to sit down together and talk. During the last couple of years, the ministry has gone through many changes, with some leaving and new ones coming on board. The Lord has put together a neat team...and we have a truly international flavor! There's one from Nicaragua, one from Guatemala, a couple from Germany, one from England, and the rest of us from the U.S. As we were each sharing just what we felt the Lord would have us involved in over the next years, it was amazing how things just kind of dovetailed together...basically the same vision with each one having a different part or focus. Some of the team has already been in Nicaragua for a while, and the rest of us will be there soon. It was pretty neat to see how the Lord is working these things out. Now I'm really ready to go!

What will I be doing next??? - I will be visiting some churches and friends in Mississippi and Arkansas during May. I'll also be visiting with some churches in Alabama and Florida and will go to Holman Prison in Atmore on June 15. This will be the third time, I think, that I've been there...but it's been a long time. In between things, I'll be mostly doing paperwork, sorting through three lifetimes of pictures (my parents and mine), doing continuing education so I can reactivate my nursing license, and getting it all done so I can leave. I hope to make it to the beach at least once (I was in Pensacola for almost a month and never did go to the beach...no time!).

Suzie and I in the RV

The RV has been a real blessing!

RV stories – There haven't been any lately (thank you Lord!) and I'm still living in the RV with my dog and loving it!

Prayer requests

- Pray that I am able to finish all I need to do before leaving around July 10
- Pray for the many details of the logistics of moving me/dog/cat to Nicaragua
- Pray for the Lord's continuing clear direction in every area of my life and for Him to work out all the "details" in my life

Thank you! Thank you so very much for your prayers and financial support. I really do appreciate each of you!

Love Ya!

Christina

NEW WEBPAGE: The ministry I'll be working with, Globe International Nicaragua, has a new webpage and all the information is up to date! You can check it out at www.codn.org. This will give you a better idea of who I'll be working with and what we are doing. Let me know what you think.
